

HOW PARLIAMENT MAY OR MAY NOT BE DISSOLVED.

Americans "Doing London"—The Last Thompson and the "The Last"

New York Heir's Sues His Heir's Wife's Heir's Sues His Heir's

London, May 20.—The probability of the early dissolution of parliament is generally admitted, but the question is being debated privately among politicians of both parties, whether the premier can insist upon the right to demand a dissolution. Many leading Liberals contend that consistently he cannot, and intend to quote in the house in support of their position. Mr. Gladstone's own assertion that no premier has a right to dissolve a parliament. Placed upon the ministry of the opposite party. Still the chances are that the premier will demand an appeal to the country, and the likelihood is equally strong that the queen will acquiesce in the demand in view of the manifest trend of the elections. London society already shows its annoyance at the prospect of summer elections and the quadruple of Americans who are arriving daily are not slow to join the general depreciation, obviously for the purpose of exhibiting familiarity with English affairs and cusoms, though many of them are visiting London for the first time. The presence here of the unusual number of American sojourners overwhelms the Londoners with social distinguished and applications for presentation to the queen are constantly pouring in upon him.

On Thursday he will present Mrs. P. T. Barlow, Mrs. Martin London, and Miss Schuyler, of New York, together with others whose names have not yet been announced. Already it is estimated that the Prince of Wales doesn't particularly admire the last New York belle, whom he met at Cannes, and there is an accompanying intimation that the last New York belle doesn't particularly admire her or not. There has been nothing of a social character to the Londoners to the splendor of the reception last Saturday at the residence of the Princess Amalie. Some idea of the magnificence of the affair may be gathered from the fact that the line of carriages conveying the guests occupied four hours in passing through the court yard. Lord Cairns, Viscount Grant and his mother, Mr. Beach Grant, were invited and it is understood that their invitation cards conveyed the impression that their presence would be regarded as a special favor. The official mind of France is much troubled in consequence of the fact that the French citizens holding consular positions in the Portuguese service paid special homage to the Princess Amalie, but the additional homage to the Grand Duke and Duchess Vladimir, of Russia, were presented, and with the Portuguese consuls in their attention to the princess, makes official interference with the objects of displacing the offenders extremely awkward.

Beach and Hanlon. LONDON, May 20.—Beach, the Australian sculler, has accepted a challenge which he has received from Hanlon, to row him a race over the Thames course.

WHISKY THE CAUSE. Charles H. Reed Appropriates His Client's Check-In a Prison Cell.

New York, May 20.—Charles H. Reed, formerly district attorney of Cook county, Ill., who defended Gustav in his trial for the murder of President Garfield, and who has a law office at 150 Broadway, was arrested at Lawrence hotel, on Saturday last, and lodged in Ludlow street jail, in a civil suit by his client, William Campbell, of Campbell & Co., of 318 West Forty-second street, to recover money collected for him. Mr. Reed arrived at the Rossmore hotel with his young wife.

His wayward wife before daylight on Saturday morning, and remained away all day.

In the evening he returned to the hotel, and was arrested at the door.

In the jail last evening he would not talk with a reporter, but a reporter who reported that it was a civil not a criminal proceeding.

At Reed's law office it was said that Mr. Reed had been counselor for the firm of Campbell & Co. in a suit in a western state, and that a check payable to Mr. Campbell had come into Mr. Reed's possession in settlement of the suit. As Mr. Campbell owed Mr. Reed a considerable amount, Mr. Reed having to use some money, used the check. Mr. Ashbush said that the accounts between Mr. Campbell & Co. had been settled yesterday and that Mr. Reed would shortly be released from prison. At the Rossmore hotel a friend of Reed said yesterday that the amount of the check used by Mr. Reed was $1,500 and that Mr. Reed was not impressed when he cashed the check.

"REVENGE, TO ARMS!" Anarchist Weber Tells the Story of the Chicago Bomb Throwing.

CHICAGO, May 20.—William Weber, a German anarchist who organized several Socialist societies here and then went to Chicago, is now here, and it is said to raise money for the defense of Chicago Anarchists.

He makes the following statement: "After the trouble at the McCormick works Monday, a meeting of our club was called. Its object was to discuss the matter, and a committee, consisting of myself, and two others were appointed to draw up a resolution. This was the one headed 'Revenge, Workingmen to Arms!'

It was decided that twenty bombs should be prepared for the next night. Volunteers were called to throw the bombs, but no one wished to speak up. It was then suggested that 500 bullets be distributed and that a still and crowd should be induced upon twenty of them. The person who drew the lot was to procure bombs and be on hand. This was done, and Spies is the only man who knows who were drawn.

"I know that twenty men received their bombs. 'To arms' was the signal for the throwing the bombs. The meeting was held most through on Tuesday night when the police ordered the Anarchists to disperse and it is presumed that the other nineteen men had started for home, or 'been injured by the police' who followed the throwing of the first bomb. If the police had appeared an hour sooner ninety five of these would have escaped."

Shredded by a Bomb. EASY WALKER, Mass., May 20.—Wm. Joseph, aged 30 years, for fifty years an employee of W. Bird & Son, was caught in the main belt which he was being yesterday, had his arm torn from his body and was instantly killed. He leaves a widow.

Metecology of the Congo Country.

Dr. A. von Deichmann, a German meteorologist, has been making observations at Vivi, in the Congo country, and reports some curious results. During about a year that he stayed there, the barometrical column did not vary more than ten millimeters; even the passage of tornadoes seemed to produce no greater effect upon it. The year is divided into rainy and dry seasons. During the latter, from May to October, no rain falls, but the country is frequently visited by the depositions from fogs. From November to April heavy showers of short duration prevail, and the water falls, in portions, sometimes as high as 108 millimeters—about four inches—in two hours.

Long, fine rains are unknown. The country is visited by cyclones, but, while storms passing to the north of the station toward the east are a contrary direction to that of the hands of a watch, those passing it to the south turned it in a direction corresponding with them. The natives burn the tall prairie-grass in the dry seasons, causing fires that last for a long time, and produce considerable meteorological effects. The air is constantly loaded with smoke, while cumulus clouds are formed over the fires and emit lightning with much force as to raise large and dangerous waves on the river.—Phrenological Journal.

Departure in Nitro-Glycerine Gunners. The various experiments that have been made during the past few years in throwing dynamite cartridges have been daily reported before the sight of the projectile. This dynamite of gunnery is the shell, or projectile, the principle of which is to fill the two compartments of the shell with chemicals which, in themselves, are harmless and non-explosive, and to manufacture an explosive compound—nitro-glycerine—by combining these ingredients during the flight of the projectile.

From a novel departure in the handling of the shell, the principle of the dynamite gun has been made, so great that this subject will doubtless be found of interest to our readers. During all preliminary handling of the shell these ingredients—the acids and glycerine—are kept separate from each other; but when the time comes for the projectile to be brought together, and the chemical action takes place during the journey.—Scientific American.

In the Beginning of Insurance. When the principles of life and other insurance first came into general use, in the early part of this century, it was used and abused as much as a game of gambling. All sorts of wild-cat companies and impracticable schemes were started, and men would insure for everything and anything. In London it is on record that such companies as the following were not only started, but that, so great was the mania there for gambling of all kinds, they actually succeeded in their enterprise.
